

To the Director of the Revista Argentina de Coloproctología

Dear Dr. Vaccaro:

My dad would be 94 years old today. He was a great doctor and, without a doubt, my guide. He practiced his profession in Navarro, my town, with the maximum knowledge, responsibility, good sense and commitment, among so many values that I could list.

In different situations I know that there are hands that guide...Throughout my professional career I was lucky to have several role models. Today I highlight three teachers Dr. Jorge Font Saravia, Dr. Vicente Dezano and Dr. Alfredo Graziano.

I highlight the capacity, commitment, prudence, and generosity with young people who are starting out in the specialty, perseverance...

But above all I emphasize doing things daily, regardless of age or time. They continue doing things; continue studying to always offer a little more. SELFLESSLY! With no other intention than to continue contributing and exalting our beloved Societal Argentina de Coloproctología. They are excellence!!.

Thank you for so many teachings!

I say then to the doctors who dawn in the art of healing, this is the way!!!
